Adrian Tippenhauer, CEO All4Labels: “This partnership is an important milestone for All4Labels – especially for our growth strategy in Northern Europe. We are convinced that Limo Labels will enable us to respond even better to the dynamic needs of our global and local customers. Limo Labels has continually worked to invest in their employees, processes, and technology in order to strengthen their organization and to become one of the most trusted label solution providers in Scandinavia. We are pleased to welcome the management team around the owners Mr. Asbjørn Bay-Smidt and Mr. René Tøttrup Klith as well as all employees as new members of the All4Labels Global Packaging Group. With this new partnership we will strengthen the foundation upon which we grow as a leading international group, and we look forward to working with Limo Labels to position the combined business for future success. Finally, I would like to thank all parties involved for their valuable support in this project.”

The Limo Labels owners and management team will continue to manage the business and, thanks to their many years of experience and market knowledge, will contribute to the accelerated growth of All4Labels in the Nordic regions. Asbjørn Bay-Smidt, CEO Limo Labels: “Limo Labels has been looking for an international partner to be stronger not only in the Nordics, but also on an international level, and thus enabling us to grow together with our customers both locally and globally – with All4Labels we have found a perfect match and partner to do so. What we highly appreciate about All4Labels is their mindset and approach to work as one global team in order to set new standards in the packaging industry. We clearly value the group’s focus on digital, innovative and sustainable packaging solutions.”

This transaction increases the size and international reach of the All4Labels Group and underlines the goal to continue growing in a sustainable way – organically and by acquisitions. “We at All4Labels are committed to convince more founders as well as entrepreneurs of our Group’s vision, so 2022 will bring further positive news of new partnerships going forward” summarizes CEO Adrian Tippenhauer.
